

Dear Parents,

Books for Schools campaign

We are currently part of a great collection scheme that could provide us with lots of new books for the school libraries, and we would like your help.

By collecting the special tokens printed in The Times and The Sunday Times, you can help claim dozens of free books for the school. Autumn term tokens will be available from September 13 to December 6 with four tokens in The Sunday Times News Review, three tokens in The Times on Saturday and one token each day in Times 2 from Monday to Friday.

With books starting at only 10 tokens, it's simple to make a real difference to our collection by picking up your daily copy of paper.

Please collect as many tokens as you can and give them to your child to bring to school. Tokens can be deposited in our special collection boxes, or given to your child's teacher.

We will be placing our book order at the end of the autumn term, so please make sure we have all your tokens by December 11, 2009.

With your help we can make a real difference to our children's libraries, ensuring that they have access to some of the very best titles available to encourage them to read and improve their literacy.

Many thanks, in advance, for your help.
